

BICEPP.ORG Provides Helpful Information to Combat COVID-19

BICEPP.org provides valuable COVID-19 information to Los Angeles businesses.

BICEPP, the Business and Industry Council for Emergency Planning and Preparedness continues to provide valuable COVID-19 information on its website, BICEPP.org.

“BICEPP continues to be critical conduit for the Los Angeles business community facing the consequences of COVID-19. Important Information specific to the issues businesses are facing during the current pandemic is coming in at an accelerated rate, and our website is a great place for businesses to visit and obtain the most helpful information,” said Les Borsay, current BICEPP President.

BICEPP’s mission is to provide a forum for information exchange to enhance emergency preparedness and contingency planning within the business community.

Current BICEPP President, Les Borsay is available for interview opportunities for media organizations in the Southern California region. Please call (213) 386-4524 or email us at info@bicepp.org to schedule.

Participation in BICEPP can benefit businesses by updating them with the latest techniques and information in the emergency planning and preparedness process. BICEPP’s role is to bring together the resources of business and industry with public service agencies to help educate and prepare the community.

Since 1983, BICEPP has provided a forum for information exchange to enhance emergency preparedness and contingency planning within the Los Angeles business community.
